ISLAMIC QUR'AN SCHOOL

FOSSELAT ACADEMY

Official Academic Curriculum Framework

Quran • Arabic Language • Islamic Studies

Kids Division and Adults Division

Outcomes-Based Curriculum Design • Mastery-Based Progression • Online-Delivery Ready

Prepared for internal academic governance, teacher training, and parent guidance.

1. Introduction & Mission

Fosselat Academy exists to help children and adults — the overwhelming majority of them non-Arabic speakers — learn to read, understand, and live the Quran, the Arabic language, and the Islamic sciences through structured, engaging, and mastery-based education, delivered flexibly online.

This document is the Academy's Official Academic Curriculum Framework. It is not a textbook and not a single lesson plan; it is the governing academic architecture that defines every educational pathway the Academy offers, the outcomes each pathway guarantees, and the standards by which student progress is measured and certified.

1.1 Guiding Principles

- Learner-Centered Design — every pathway is built around what the student ends each level able to do, not merely what content was covered.
- Mastery Before Progression — students advance only once they meet defined, assessable graduation standards for a level.
- Authenticity with Accessibility — Islamic content is grounded in mainstream, orthodox scholarship, while delivery methods are adapted for non-Arabic speakers and modern online classrooms.
- Age-Appropriate Sequencing — Kids and Adults Divisions share the same academic philosophy but differ in pacing, examples, and delivery style.
- Continuous Assessment — every level defines its own assessment method and graduation requirement, avoiding vague or open-ended progression.

2. Academic Design Standards

Fosselat Academy's curriculum follows internationally recognized Outcomes-Based Education (OBE) principles, adapted for Islamic and Quranic pedagogy.

2.1 Outcomes-Based Structure

Every level in this framework is defined by ten consistent fields: Level Name, Recommended Age, Entry Requirements, Expected Duration, Recommended Number of Lessons, Expected Study Hours, Learning Outcomes, Skills Acquired, Assessment Method, and Graduation Requirements (including who is ready to continue to the next level). This consistency allows teachers, parents, and administrators to evaluate progress in the same way across every track.

2.2 Learning Outcomes and Bloom's Taxonomy

Learning outcomes throughout this framework are written as observable, measurable actions the learner will be able to perform — using verbs such as identify, articulate, apply, analyze, evaluate, construct, and demonstrate — rather than as descriptions of course content. Lower levels emphasize Remembering and Understanding; middle levels emphasize Applying and Analyzing; upper levels emphasize Evaluating and Creating, in line with Bloom's Taxonomy.

2.3 Study Load Assumptions

Unless otherwise noted, all duration and hour estimates in this framework assume two 60-minute lessons per week, the Academy's standard default online schedule. Where a program's nature requires a different cadence (for example, intensive Hifz tracks), this is stated explicitly alongside the standard-pace estimate. Actual pacing may be adjusted per student through the Academy's placement and individualized learning plan process.

2.4 Certification Philosophy

Each level awards a level-completion certificate; each program awards a cumulative program diploma upon completion of its final level. Certificates document the specific outcomes and skills mastered, supporting transparent reporting to parents and, where applicable, partner institutions.

3. Curriculum Structure Overview

The Academy's curriculum is organized into three structural levels: Student Division, Learning Track, and Program (composed of sequential Levels).

LEVEL 1 — STUDENT DIVISION	Kids Programs Adults Programs
LEVEL 2 — LEARNING TRACKS (PER DIVISION)	Quran Track Arabic Language Track Islamic Studies Track
LEVEL 3 — PROGRAMS (PER TRACK)	Quran Track: Reading & Tajweed • Memorization & Revision (Hifz) • Ijazah Preparation Arabic Track: Foundation Pathway • Post-Foundation Pathway Islamic Studies Track: Comprehensive Islamic Studies • Tafsir • Hadith • Seerah • Aqeedah • Fiqh • Manners & Islamic Character

Each Program is further divided into sequential Levels, each with its own entry requirements, learning outcomes, skills, assessment method, and graduation standard, detailed in Sections 4 and 5 of this framework.

4. Kids Division

This division applies Fosselat Academy's three learning tracks — Quran, Arabic Language, and Islamic Studies — with content, pacing, and delivery calibrated to the 4. kids division learner profile.

6. Assessment, Certification & Progression Policy

6.1 Assessment Principles

- Assessment is criterion-referenced: students are measured against the fixed graduation standard for their level, not ranked against peers.
- Assessment methods combine oral recitation/interview, written tests, practical demonstration, projects, and teacher-observed checklists, matched to the nature of each subject.
- Formative check-ins occur throughout a level; the graduation assessment described for each level is the summative gate to progression.

6.2 Progression Policy

- A student may only progress to the next level after meeting the stated Graduation Requirements for their current level.
- Students who do not meet the standard receive a structured remediation period (typically 4–8 weeks) with targeted revision before reassessment.
- Placement testing is available for students transferring from other institutions or home study, to enter at the appropriate level rather than restarting from Level 1.
- Individualized pacing (accelerated or extended) is available upon teacher and academic-coordinator recommendation, particularly within the Memorization & Revision (Hifz) programs.

6.3 Certification Structure

- Level Certificate — issued on successful completion of each individual level.
- Program Diploma — issued on successful completion of the final level of a program.
- Ijazah Certificate — issued only through the Ijazah Preparation Program, documenting a certified chain of transmission (sanad) from an authorized certifying Sheikh/Sheikha.
- Academic Transcript — a cumulative record of all levels, certificates, and diplomas earned across all three tracks, available to every enrolled student.

7. Program Progression Roadmaps

The roadmaps below summarize the sequential path a student follows from first enrollment to the completion of each program. Roadmaps are identical in structure across the Kids and Adults Divisions; pacing and age ranges differ as detailed in Sections 4 and 5.

| Quran Track

Reading & Tajweed (L1 → L4/L3) → Memorization & Revision / Hifz (L1 → L4/L3, Complete Hifz) → Ijazah Preparation (L1 → L2, Certified Sanad)

| Arabic Language Track

Foundation Pathway (Letters → Fluency Readiness) → Post-Foundation Pathway (Beginner Communicative → Advanced Arabic & Fluency)

| Islamic Studies Track

Comprehensive Islamic Studies (Foundations → Applied Knowledge) → Specialized Programs in parallel or sequence: Tafsir · Hadith · Seerah · Aqeedah · Fiqh · Manners & Islamic Character (each Foundational → Advanced)

Students are not required to complete all three tracks simultaneously; the Academy supports individualized combinations (for example, a student pursuing Hifz alongside Foundational Islamic Studies, without formal Arabic-track enrollment). Academic coordinators review each student's combined study load each term.
